Value-Added Measure

Value-added is a measure of progress made over a school year. It acknowledges that schools and districts can make considerable academic improvement even though they may have not met established student achievement standards.

- + A plus symbol indicates that a district or school has achieved more than one year of expected growth in student progress.
- ✓ A check symbol indicates that a district or school has achieved one year of expected growth in student progress.
- A minus symbol indicates that a district or school has achieved less than one year of expected growth in student progress.
